I am very thankful to the almighty God for watching over me and my family. God has been our source of help as a family and in the ministry. God has been our provider, protector, source of boldness for the ministry work. Once again I want to praise the Lord for counting me faithful into the ministry. I have told myself several times that I will not trade the ministry for anything. Every time I turn around and look at what the Lord is doing through me, it brings joy to my heart. The specific thing I want to thank God for is the ability to preach the gospel clear enough that people could trust Christ for salvation. Recently, I have seen myself grow in the ministry. Before, people would struggle to understand me in soul winning but now God has helped me a lot through Dr. Speer to become a good soul winner.

Not just that but I have also trained people like Dominic Amankwaa, Victoria Anderson, Priscila Yeboah, David Samanzor, Bismarck Oduro, Emmanuel Anderson, Twumasi Emmanuel and many others who are not very good now because they are limited by time here in our ministry to preach the gospel clear to be understood. I see the future of our church when people I have witnessed to come me for advice and Bible questions for answers when they have pastors to have gone to.

Pray for laborers.

Pray that all the people I mentioned and the others will continue to avail themselves for more training.

Pray that this year will be the year of growth in numbers as we plan to work harder.
