This month has been stressful. The tropical storm Alberto flooded most of central Cuba and most of our congregation had their homes flooded. My house had a meter of water for two days and I had to evacuate my family to a safer location. These are the times in which we trust God and realize that He is always in control. God has still been good to us. During the next couple days we will start helping the people with their homes and hopefully find a time to share the gospel. Pray for us because some people might view these events as a negative and it will be easy to become bitter. May everything be for His glory. God bless you.
